Dear John,

The introduction of the unique new BMW X6 in May 2008 will launch a new class of vehicle – a Sport Activity Coupé; combining remarkable coupé styling and sporting dynamics with the versatility of a SAV.

Performance as exceptional as it looks

The new BMW X6 will set a new benchmark in handling. The class-leading xDrive four-wheel-drive with the new Dynamic Performance Control system ensures intelligently directed power across all four wheels, increasing agility and safety margins.

The new BMW X6 will be available with three high performance engines at launch: the 306hp xDrive35i, the 235hp xDrive30d and 286hp xDrive35d.
